"HAS ANYONE HERE—"

How An Officer Got Even With His Men.

One of the best of the stories of the new army and its doings is that concerning a rather young officer named Kelly. His men on one occasion were marching leisurely under his command along a country lane, when some of the more audacious spirits among them began whistling the familiar tune "Has anyone here seen Kelly?"

The young officer wisely ignored it for a time until the personal reference became too noisy to ignore. Suddenly he called a halt, put his men through one or two movements, and then when they expected to resume the march he ordered them to double. He made the offending company keep it up for the whole three miles back to camp without a minute's rest and although he had to penalise himself as well in the process the drastic remedy fully achieved its purpose. So long as he remained with that company the "Kelly" tune was placed under a strict embargo by the members of its rank and file.

TURKISH AMMUNITION.

I have just received a letter, writes a correspondent to a London paper, from the front containing the following interesting facts with regard to the ammunition of the Turks. The writer says, "either the Turks are very short of ammunition, or someone has been making a pile out of contracts; only one shell in ten takes any effect." He goes on to say that twenty unexploded shells, found upon the sea-shore, were opened and found to contain sawdust, stones, and concrete. We can but trust that the rest of their supply is of the same character.

SUICIDE ON MOUNT FUJI.

Pollution of the Sacred Mountain.

Recently a student named Fujimura Yukiyo climbed up Fuji-san, and put up in the Ishimuro tea-house at the summit. Hearing noises in his room soon after he had retired, the other inmates ran in, and found him in his death-agony, with a cut throat, evidently self-inflicted.

Suicide of students are unfortunately common enough, but this one has attracted unusual interest, as it is said to be the first time that the sacred summit has been stained with human blood.

The Kine has rented a set of apartments at "Honey" Court Palace to Mrs. Scott, mother of the late Captain Robert Falcon Scott, C.V.O., R.N., the hero of the Antarctic.

Over two thousand dog licences have been bought by the National Canine Defence League since the first of January, and of this number 1,875 have been for the do, a "d-d" and "d-d", whose pots are being looked after by relatives and friends. Without the help of the League many of these dogs would have been destroyed.

WHO'S WHO IN JAPAN

EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY S. KURIKI.

The first (1913) edition is already issued.

Biographies of over 5,000 people who are well-known in society and of several hundred foreigners associated with Japan appear in the book. Quite new materials and accurate sketches, both being utterly free from prejudices.

Many portraits are inserted. The book contains over 1,400 pages.

The price is yen 6 (12/-) or $3 per copy.

Orders for the book should be accompanied by payment.

Subscribers for the second annual edition of "Who's Who in Japan" will be allowed a reduction of one yen.

The registered postage is 15 sen, to Korea

and China 40 sen and to Europe & America

70 sen or 85 cents.

It is a Good ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

"Many influential papers of the world quoted this work in the highest terms."

For example, The Daily Mail says—

"Yet another 'Who's Who' and this time from Japan! The reader is apt at first to regard it as a curiosity, as a sign that the East has now become Western practically almost to the last detail. But

'Who's Who in Japan' is far more than a curiosity; it is a very sound and useful reference book. It is printed in English and contains brief biographies, on the accepted model of prominent men in Japan.

Mr. Kuriaki is a skilful editor and has done his work well.
